Securitas Systems USA hires new Director of Business Development and Communications

Securitas Systems USA is pleased to announce the appointment of Carol Enman as Director of Business Development and Communications.

Carol has a solid foundation and understanding of the security industry having previously been the Publisher of both Security Systems News and Security Director News, the two newspapers of record for the resellers and end users communities within the security industry. She was also an active participant in starting SecurityXchange™, a strategic event for commercial systems integrators facilitating partnering between the leading technology vendors and security providers. Carol was a co-founder of the Security Growth Conference, a premier financial event designed to bring CEOs and senior executives of the top independent security systems and technology companies together with CEOs of the largest global security companies and the financial community for business development, M&A and financing discussions. Carol was instrumental in bringing TechSec Solutions to the market, a conference focused on IP security technology and the convergence of physical and IT security.

“Carol has an extensive knowledge of the security industry and brings a great deal of value to us as we expand and grow our business to meet the challenges that our customers face in today’s regional, national and global marketplace” said Marty Guay, COO of Securitas Systems USA.

Enman said: “I am elated to be working with Securitas Systems. Being a part of such a strong company and working in the security systems integration business is exciting to me. This is a dynamic industry that has significant opportunities for growth and I am happy to be a part of this growth”.

Notes to Editors:

Securitas Systems USA has an approximate sale of MUSD 120 and around 575 employees. The company is part of Securitas Systems, a Swedish based security systems integrator offering complete security solutions for customers with high security demands within market segments such as banking, industry, defense, airport, seaport and retail. Services are based on modern technology and concepts include access control, video surveillance, intrusion and fire alarm systems. Total annual sales for Securitas Systems are approximately MSEK 6,000; it has 5,000 employees and operates in 15 countries (in Europe, the U.S. and Hong Kong). Securitas Systems also owns Pacom, a security product manufacturing company in Australia.

Securitas Systems is part of the Securitas Group, a world leader in security. On February 9th 2006, Securitas proposed to transform three of its divisions into independent, specialized security companies: Loomis Cash Handling Services AB, Securitas Direct AB and Securitas Systems AB. The three new companies will, subject to a decision by an Extraordinary General Meeting proposed for September 25, 2006, be distributed to the shareholders by way of a dividend and listed on the O-list of the Stockholm Stock Exchange immediately thereafter.
